

GUIDE TO THE CHOICE OF THE MATTRESS FOR YOUR SOFA-BED

Choosing a sofa bed involves careful consideration regarding the choice of its mattress. Firm, soft, spring, foam or other materials: solutions for which MILANO BEDDING has studied and tested products with high quality content, able to satisfy the basic criteria of sitting and sleeping comfort, without compromising aesthetics and design.

Some suggestions for a proper use

- often rotate mattresses from top to bottom and head to feet (Latex-Foam, Memocomfort, Frank, George, Jack only head-feet); do not rotate Bill, Chick, Dizzy, Gil, Glenn, Roger, Spencer, Willy mattresses;
- if used in holiday apartments, leave the sofa half open when not used, to avoid compression for long time of the mattress, seat and backrest;
- avoid leaving the sofa close with thick duvets.

It is important to know that

All polyurethane foams eventually lose lift within very acceptable limits and, if compressed for a long time, lose their shape in the folding areas. Milano Bedding uses only high density and high quality polyurethanes, enabling the mattresses to go back, with a small tolerance, to their original form leaving them open before use

OUR MATTRESSES

STANDARD

The structure consists of biconical helicoidal springs, made with tempered steel wire called "Bonnel", linked by a spiral steel to allow folding without damage, it is a relatively soft mattress, recommended for those who leave the sofa closed for long periods (produced also in "Class 1 IM" and British Standard fireproof version).

FLEX

Mattress made of polyurethane foam: it is a just an alternative for those who do not like to sleep on spring mattresses but do not want to invest more than the price of the sofa: our deformation test have yielded positive results, this mattress is not recommended for sofas that remain closed for a long time.

CMS

Soft mattress made of polyurethane foam: it is a just an alternative for those who do not like to sleep on spring mattresses; our deformation test have yielded positive results, this mattress is not recommended for sofas that remain closed for a long time.

POCKET (POCKET SPRING)

The structure consists of independent pocket springs: their diameter is less than the Bonnel, but the number of springs contained is more than double (736 springs in 160x200 cm. mattress); independent springs compress more or less depending on the weight and protuberances of the body, creating an ergonomic position. This Mattress is suitable for everyday use; it is semi-rigid (produced also in British Standard version).

POCKET NATURA H 18 CM (POCKET SPRING)

The structure consists of independent pocket springs: their diameter is less than the Bonnel, but the number of springs contained is more than double (736 springs in 160x200 cm. mattress); independent springs compress more or less depending on the weight and protuberances of the body, creating an ergonomic position. This Mattress is suitable for everyday use. The cover is made with "Silver Tech" material, built using silver fibres in the yarn mixture, performing an excellent antibacterial action. The ability of conduction of the silver also allows a good anti-stress and anti-static effect. The "Silver Tech" fabric is quilted on the winter side with Pure Wool Woolmark[®], while the summer side is padded with 100% Cotton.

POCKET MEMO (POCKET SPRING)

Pocket Memo is made with independent pocket springs, each contained in a bag of non-allergenic material, allowing for differentiated compression according to the weight of the body. The padding is made of viscoelastic foam on both sides with a "memory effect", which conforms to the shape of the body without any compression, facilitating blood circulation; the "box-system" stiffen the mattress at the sides for more comfort when you sit on the edge or when you get up from bed.

POCKET MEMO LUXURY 18 CM H (POCKET SPRING)

Pocket Memo Luxury is made with independent pocket springs, each contained in a bag of non-allergenic material, allowing for differentiated compression according to the weight of the body. POCKET SILVER 22

Pocket Silver 22 is made with independent pocket springs, each contained in a bag of non-allergenic material, allowing a differentiated compression according to the weight of the body. The box-system stiffens the mattress at the sides for more comfort when you sit on the edge or when you get up from bed. The cover in Silver fabric contains antibacterial silver yarn and is quilted with hypoallergenic 100% polyester fibre.

POLILATEX WITH REMOVABLE COVER

Polilatex is a mattress for those who love to sleep on a rather firm surface. This ecological polyurethane, produced with water and high-tech polymer, contains a percentage of latex ($\pm 5\%$), which offers an uncommon elasticity to polyurethanes standard. This mattress is indicated for sofas opened on a frequent basis.

PERFORMANCE

Relatively soft and extremely comfortable mattress, it is produced with fire retardant materials according to the British Standard Regulations. Mattress is suitable for everyday use

MEMOCOMFORT – MEMOCOMFORT BRITISH STANDARD

In our opinion the best mattress to sleep on: the special "low resilience" foam with "memory" effect, used on top, wraps around the body and takes its shape. It is therefore reversible, allowing you to sleep on both sides. This mattress showed no problems of permanent deformation even after leaving the sofa closed for long time (produced also in British Standard fireproof version).

LATEX-FOAM

The 40 Kg m³ high resilience polyurethane foam support and top layer made of 100% latex makes this mattress suitable for everyday use, enabling different compression zones, according to the weight and body prominences. It is also produced in the British Standard version.

NATURLATEX

Naturlatex is made with independent pocket springs, each contained in a bag of non-allergenic material, allowing a differentiated compression according to the weight of the body. The padding on both sides is made of 100% latex. The "box-system" stiffens the mattress at the sides for more comfort when you sit on the edge or when you get up from bed. The fabric is quilted with wool mix on the winter side and cotton mix on the summer side.
